

THE INAUGURAL
Critical Asian Humanities
WORKSHOP

April 3, Friday

East Duke Building, Room 209

10:00am-12:00pm

Graduate Panel I:

"Cultural and Literary Transnationalism"

Adhira Mangalagiri (Chicago)

En Li (Washington University)

Amy Lee (Berkeley)

DISCUSSANT: Chris Bush (Northwestern),

Herman and Beulah Pearce Miller Research Professor in Literature

12:00-1:30pm

Lunch

1:30-3:30pm

Graduate Panel II:

"Trans-Regionalism Reconsidered"

Xiangjun Feng (Berkeley)

Shengyu Wang (Chicago)

Benjamin R. Young (George Washington)

DISCUSSANT: Ban Wang (Stanford)

William Haas Professor in Chinese Studies

4:00-5:30pm

KEYNOTE LECTURE: Wai-ye Li (Harvard),

"The Uses of Barbarians in Early China"

Introduced by: Eileen Chow

5:30-6:30pm

Reception

April 4, Saturday

East Duke Building, Room 209

10:00-11:30am

KEYNOTE LECTURE: Lisa Lowe (Tufts),

"John Stuart Mill in Hong Kong"

Introduced by: Priscilla Wald

11:30am-1:00pm

Lunch

1:00-2:30pm

KEYNOTE LECTURE: Lisa Yoneyama (Toronto),

"A Transpacific Critique of Cold War Knowledge Formations"

Introduced by: Anne Allison

2:45-3:45pm

Breakout Sessions (All Participants) - East Duke 204A, 204B, & 204D

4:00-5:00pm

Rey Chow (Duke),

Concluding Remarks and Discussion